Workshop – creating quizzes and videos

Divide students into 6 groups

1. Group - 3 people
2. Group – 3 people
3. Group – 5 people
4. Group - 5 people
5. Group – 5 people
6. Group – 5 people

Instructions for 1 – 2 Group

Create a quiz on human rights. Your quiz should contain 15 questions. Create in Kahoot or Quizziz.

Instructions for 3 – 6 Group

Create a short video - max 2 min in the Capcut app about human rights violations in different situations. Just use the following situations as an inspiration, but of course be creative in your work. If you have another idea, feel free to implement it after consultation.

Time: Wednesday - 10.00 – 12.00

Ideas for creating videos about the violation of human rights

Right to say no
Sophie went to help her disabled friend Anna who wants to take things out of her locker. However, Anna refuses the help because she wants to try it herself first.

Bullying on social networks
For fun, a group of friends decide to create a fake account from where they keep sending humiliating messages to their classmate.

Failure to respect equal treatment
Two friends are interested in taking part on a project where they will have to represent their school. They both have the same experiences.

Human Rights seen through young eyes!

But one of them is deemed unsuitable due to the community they come from/ disability.

Right to free choice of profession

Ivan is very interested in art and wants to continue in this direction. His parents, however, do not consider such a profession suitable and they want their child to become a doctor or a lawyer.

The right to a clean enviroment

Students dislike, that people keep throwing water bottles into the school yard. They decided to speak up against this problem.

Right to privacy

Elizabeth decided to talk to her close friend about a personal problem asking for advice. Her friend, however, passed this information on, not realizing she was invading Elizabeth's privacy.

Copyright

The Best Photo competition was held at school. When the participating student was looking through the photos of other students, she saw a picture that was the same as hers. But this picture was taken by her.

Human Rights seen through young eyes!